1971 Triumph TR6

Home market fuel injected 150bhp example, restored some years ago with engine rebuilt at same time, MOT record suggests less than 13,000 miles since then, body seems very sound, paintwork remains very good and car is running well with working overdrive and electronic ignition. Hood is very good also, comes with a good history file including MOTs back to 1994, making odometer reading of just over 82,000 miles highly likely to be correct. A hardtop is also available by separate negotiation.
