History: Modernised for today's roads with 4.2 litre XJ fuel injected engine, discs all round, wires, four speed manual box with overdrive, power steering, uprated suspension and much more. Presents very well with blue paintwork, fine midnight blue leather, excellent headlining and woodwork, much recent mechanical work including removal of cylinder head, repaired valves, new head gasket and fuel pump, overhauled brakes and repaired radiator, substantial bills on file. There are a few rust bubbles at the base of one rear door and the paintwork has some micro-blistering and other blemishes, at its worst on the boot and roof – this explains the low price. Some recent paperwork, Jaguar Enthusiast article about the car (January 1998), handbook, sales literature and other books come with the car. Drives like a modern with retro charm. Owner is open to sensible offers on this lovely car.
